I urge all CTA members to support full continuation of the J Line and the L Line. I am a rider of both lines frequently and depend on them.

Muni should focus all of its efforts on operating all lines in the tunnel.

It's MUNI's responsibility to have a computer capable of handling all lines and stop using excuses to shirk its duties to us riders.

When the tunnel traffic is interrupted, its almost always because of a car mechanical problem---NOT too many cars in the tunnel. Slowdowns are computer problems.

MUNI should be maintaining the cars properly, as well as securing a capable computer system. But instead MUNI is spending too much money on other things.

First priority should be running and maintaining a full fleet of buses and cars, not cutting service when it cannot manage its most important responsibilities.

We need the J and the L.
