Workgroup Achievements

Protected Bike Lane Design Work

Concerns with Protected Bike Lane Designs

Access to curb has changed

Pedestrians now crossing bike lane to access curb

Charrette: Designing Protected Bike Lanes that Are Safe and Accessible for Pedestrians

March 6, 2018

- 50 participants
- Great enthusiasm
- Interest from Oakland

Transit Islands

Challenges:

- Getting on and off transit island
- Crossing bike lane safely
- Finding transit island/curb

Sidewalk-Level Bike Lanes

Challenges:

- Mixing of bicyclists and pedestrians
- Ensuring bike lane is detectable
- Crossing bike lane safely

Floating Parking

Challenges:

- Getting on and off curb
- Crossing bike lane safely
- Longer distances to travel
- Fewer accessible parking spots

Post-Protected Lanes

Challenge:

- Curbside drop-off eliminated

Solutions

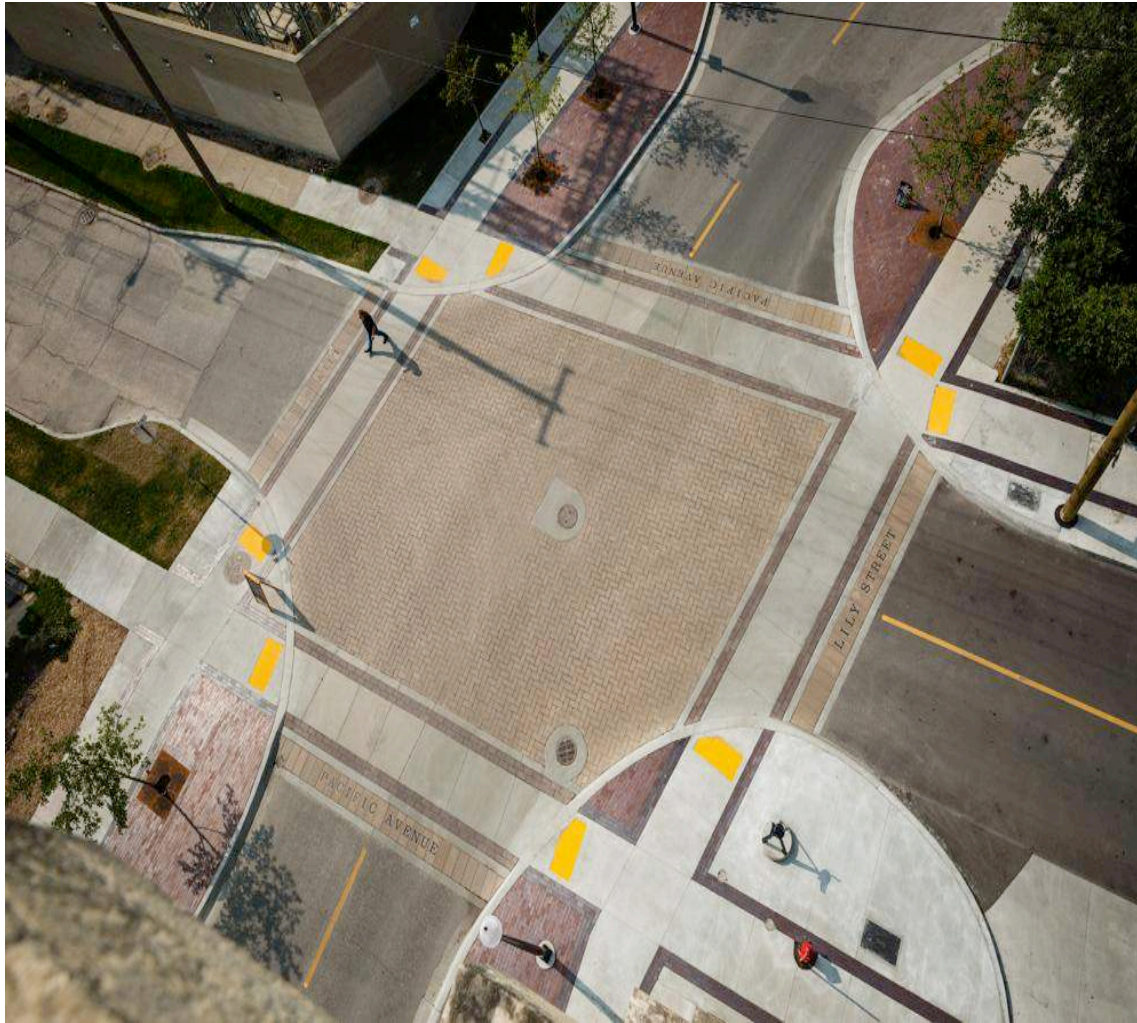

Raised Crossings

Highly visible and predictable crossings and mixing zones

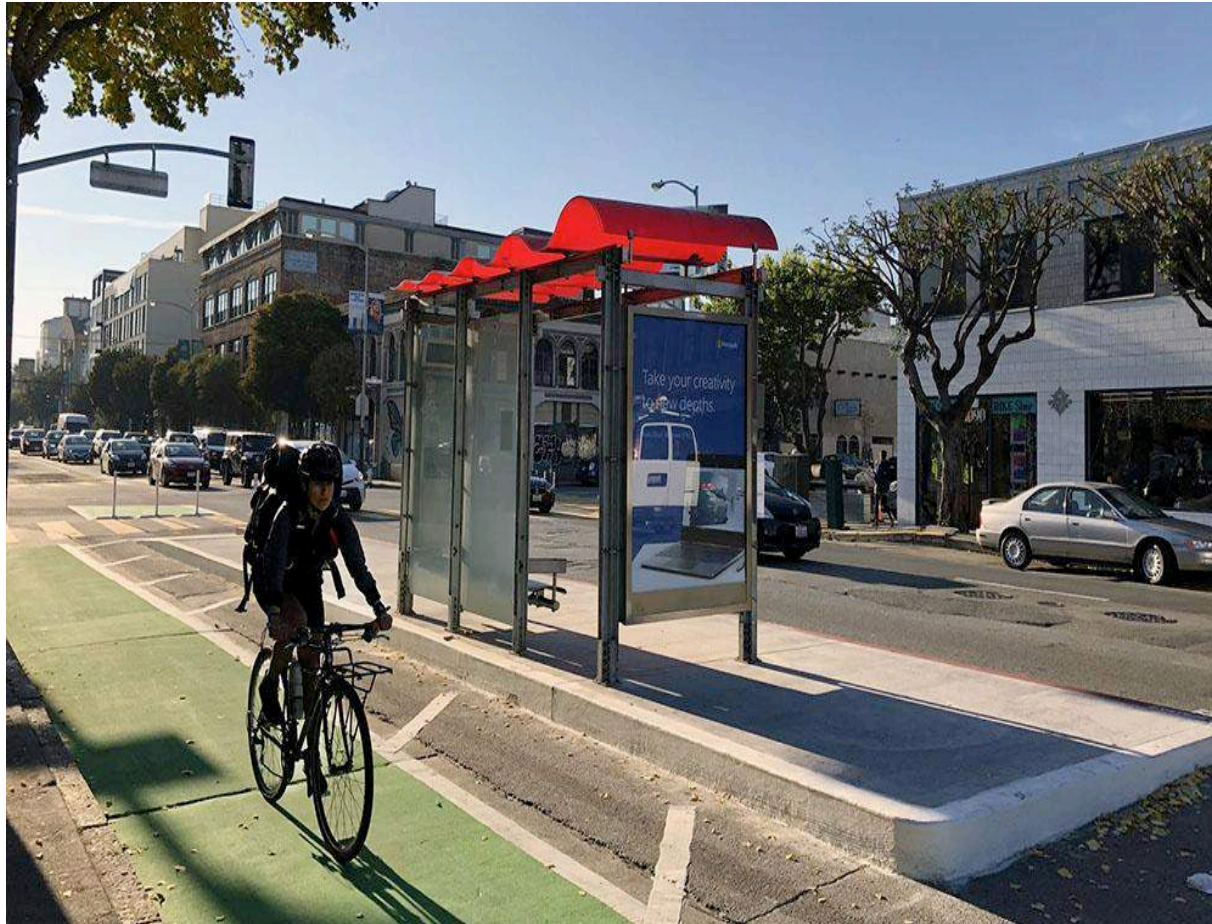

Universal Design

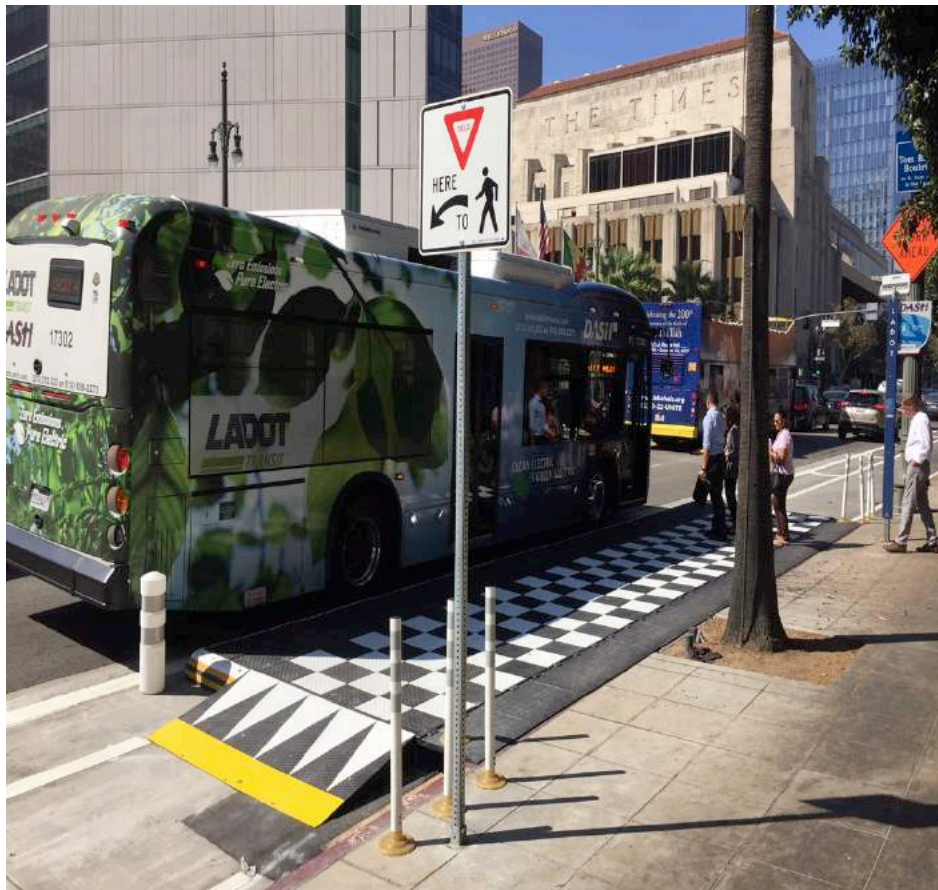

More space for people, not cars

Flexible Design

Need for Multiple Access/ Crossing Points
